Dear C101 Members,

We appreciate the Grant Reward for our "Making Breakfast Count" project. It may seem hard to believe but we have the largest population, per capita, of homeless students in the nation! Just recently, 60 minutes did a segment of the problem here in Central Florida entitled: Hard Times Generation.

Although our schools provide free breakfast and lunch, children often go hungry in the evenings, on week-ends, and during extended holiday and summer breaks.

With programs like "Making Breakfast Count", many students can have a nutritious breakfast while at home for the holidays. Because of the grant from the West Orange C101, 1200 local children had whole grain breakfast cereal during the winter holiday school break.

Working together, we can Have Faith. End Hunger in our community.

Thank you.
