...Engaging the business community

...Preparing students for the future.

Wednesday, November 18, 2009

Each November, in celebration of American Education Week,
The Foundation for Orange County Public Schools
brings business and civic leaders into the classrooms,
in a fun and engaging way,
to talk with students about academics, careers and the future.

Teach-In is made possible by the generous support of Bank of America and the Orlando Sentinel who provide financial and in-kind support for the program.

Since the Teach-In's establishment in 1991, it has brought thousands of volunteer speakers into classrooms each year. This personal interaction has proven to be an invaluable learning opportunity for students and, for business people, a way to help prepare and nurture the future workforce.

...Volunteers...

You can read a book, tutor a student, talk about your career, your travels, your hobby, your culture, your life experiences, etc.

Can we count on you to give one hour or more of your time for public education?

To register to be a "Teacher for a Day" (or part of a day) during Teach-In 2009, complete the form on the back of this information sheet and return it to the Foundation. We can assist in matching you to the school or school area of your choice, and you will be contacted directly by the school's Teach-In coordinator regarding your assignment. The earlier you register, the better chance you will be placed at the school of your choice.

Email or Fax (407.317.3457) your form by November 6th to the Foundation.
After November 6th it may be difficult to match you to the school of your choice.
